

Frequently Asked Questions

Compiled from recurring customer support tickets — updated quarterly by the CS team.

Q1. How long does delivery take?

It depends on your city. Karachi/Lahore/Islamabad customers usually get their order in 2-3 days. Other cities can take 4-7 days, and remote areas like Gilgit-Baltistan can take up to two weeks. See the full Shipping Policy document for the exact table.

Q2. Can I pay online instead of COD?

Yes — we accept JazzCash, Easypaisa, and all major debit/credit cards at checkout. Prepaid orders are generally dispatched slightly faster since they skip the COD confirmation step.

What if I miss the courier's call?

The rider will usually attempt delivery up to 3 times (though in practice this varies a lot by area — some couriers in smaller cities only try once, unfortunately). If you miss all attempts the order gets sent back to us and marked RTO.

Q3. Do you offer free returns?

Only for damaged, defective, or wrong items — see Section 4 of the Refund Policy. For regular size/fit exchanges, the first exchange per order is free; a second one has a small Rs. 150 charge.

Q4. My tracking says 'delivered' but I never got the package. What now?

This is treated as a priority escalation, not a normal delivery question — please contact support directly with your order number rather than waiting for the chatbot; this scenario is not something the automated flow should resolve on its own.

Q5. Can I return sale items?

Items discounted more than 30% are exchange-only (no cash refund) and must be exchanged within 7 days. Regular-priced items follow the normal 14-day policy.

Is customization/stitching returnable?

No — once an item is cut/stitched to your measurements it can't be resold, so these are final sale. This is one of the most common escalation-avoidable questions, so it's worth checking with the customer BEFORE they order if their size is unusual.

Q6. I want to cancel my order, how do I do that?

If the order hasn't been dispatched yet, just reply 'cancel' to the confirmation message and it'll be cancelled automatically. Once dispatched, it can't be cancelled mid-transit, but you can refuse delivery and it'll be treated as a standard RTO with no charge to you.

Q7. Do remote areas pay extra for COD?

Yes, there's a remote-area surcharge (Rs. 200-350 depending on exact location) that's added at checkout automatically for Gilgit-Baltistan, Chitral, and similar remote destinations — this isn't a delivery fee, it's separate and shown as a line item.

Note: this FAQ is a quick-reference summary maintained informally by the CS team and may lag behind the formal Shipping and Refund Policy documents after a policy change — where the two disagree, the formal policy document is authoritative.
